IS FOUND NOT GUILTY BY CIVIL SERVICE BOARD

Charges Against Woman Commissioner of Public Welfare, Chicago, Not Sustained.

CHICAGO, April 21.—Mrs. Louise Osborne Rowe, commissioner of public welfare, was found not guilty by the city civil service commission in a formal report made public today of the charges that she compelled Mrs. Page Waller Eaton, former superintendent of social surveys, to contribute a part of her salary for the benefit of Mrs. Margaret E. Mivelaz, a sister-in-law of Mayor William Hale Thompson.

The commission found that the testimony of Mrs. Eaton, Mrs. Rowe's accuser, was unsubstantiated and uncorroborated.

The investigation was begun by the commission on orders from Mayor Thompson after Mrs. Eaton charged that Mrs. Rowe compelled her to "split" her $5,000 a year salary.

Allegations by Mrs. Eaton.

Mrs. Eaton alleged that she contributed a total of $500 to Mrs. Rowe, her superior officer in the department of public welfare, the payments extending over a period of approximately six months.

"Mazie says you've got to come across," a phrase imputed to Mrs. Rowe by Mrs. Eaton and referring to the wife of the mayor, became prominent in the investigation. On this point Capt. Percy Coffin, head of the civil service commission, rendered a separate decision.

He said: "The expression bore the same relation to the Eaton-Rowe controversy as the red, green and purple lights do to a well managed scenic production. It added aspect and enriched the normal vision. It was an artful phrase, coined to throw glamour on a new political diversion—female strife. It was disrespectful and uncalled for in the personal manner in which it was used."

600 Pages of Evidence.

With the verdict the commission issued a review of nearly 600 pages of evidence taken in the case. Stress is laid on the testimony of Mrs. Eaton that she thought for a time the contributions were in the nature of a loan.

The commission was advised that there could be no criminal prosecution in such cases if the person who made the contributions thought the money was simply a loan to be paid back later.

The commission states that Mrs. Eaton said she had paid the money to Mrs. Rowe, but no direct testimony was offered to show that she really had made the payments and that no one but Mrs. Eaton could say positively that the money had been paid over.

Mrs. Rowe denied that she had received the money, and the commission, therefore, held that the testimony of the two women was directly contradictory and that Mrs. Rowe was not guilty of the charges.

ENTIRE TEACHING FORCE OF D.C. MAY BE UNIONIZED

Graded Teachers Expected to Form Organization—Mass Meeting Planned.

Washington's entire public school teaching force may become unionized.

Decision of the High School Teachers' Union, at an organization meeting in Central High School building yesterday afternoon, not to admit graded school teachers to membership in this body is expected to be followed by the formation of a graded teachers' union. Whether normal school teachers will be declared eligible for membership in the high school organization has not been determined.

The plan for a separate organization of graded teachers was endorsed as the wiser one, in a resolution adopted, and the question of admitting normal teachers was referred to the constitutional committee, which is to report its conclusions to the full membership for final action.

Mass Meeting Planned.

Impetus is expected to be given the unionization plans, as well as the proposal for a separate organization of graded teachers, at a mass meeting of all classes of teachers in the public schools, to be held in the assembly hall of Central High School May 4. Assistant Secretary of Labor Louis F. Post and prominent labor men will address the meeting.

L. V. Lampson, temporary chairman, presided at yesterday's meeting, at which considerable organizational progress was made. The principal action consisted in the appointment of a committee to draw up a constitution. Members of the committee are W. J. Wallis, chairman; Miss Mabel Hawes, A. A. Doolittle, Miss Emily F. Sleman, Roy C. Clafflin, Joseph Wilson, George R. Devitt, Reuben Fink and L. V. Lampson (ex officio).

Chairman Lampson announced that the membership list of the union is expanding rapidly. Forty-eight teachers signed the call for the meeting, and since then the number of prospective charter members practically has doubled. Reports from canvassers indicated that a big majority of the high school teachers, of whom there are 200, would affiliate with the union, which will be organized under the American Federation of Labor.

It is planned to have the union fully organized before the close of schools. Organization plans will be considered by the committee on constitution, which will meet in Central High School next Tuesday, and later the committee's recommendations will be presented to the full membership for adoption.

SUNDAY CAMPAIGN GROWS

IN INTEREST TOWARD END

Services at Baltimore Meetings Are More Enthusiastic and Many Are "Hitting the Trail."

Special Dispatch to The Star.

BALTIMORE, Md., April 21.—After Billy Sunday had preached last night his sermon on "Excuses," or reasons why men and women neglect to accept Christianity, 403 converts trod the sawdust trail. The evening service was unusually enthusiastic, the unusually large number of trail-hitters being substantiated by the opinion expressed by Sunday and many of his co-workers that the meeting

Wednesday night broke the ice and ushered in a whirlwind wind-up for the campaign.

The evening converts brought the day's total of trail-hitters to 555, the number including those who had taken their stand at the Garden Theater meeting at noon. And it carried the grand total for the campaign past the 20,000 mark.

There were several cases of mothers and fathers bringing forward their sons or daughters, and one little boy of not more than twelve years of age led his father to the platform pit. There were several negroes in the forward marching throng. While the attendance was not quite so large as that of the preceding evening, 20,000 people packed the big building and hundreds were turned away.

Excuses Are Answered.

The text of the sermon was: "And ye will not come unto Me that ye may have life" (John, 6:40). Sunday took up categorically some of the things that men and women put forward as excuses for not becoming Christians. Foremost among these obstacles to righteousness he placed riches, and said: "I'd rather undertake to convert ten drunkards than one old money shark."

He said that business sometimes proved a big obstacle, and told of a young man who remained outside the fold because he refused to give up his position as traveling salesman for a liquor house. A young girl employed in a department store, he said, told him once that she was prevented from accepting Christ because her employer required the clerks to misrepresent the quality of goods on certain occasions. "And I want to say right here that God will damn to hottest hell the merchant who makes his clerks tell lies about his goods."

There were 31,000 people in the two tabernacle congregations, bringing the grand total of attendance up to 1,225,200.

W. B. Stiff, fifty-five, of Oak Grove, Westmoreland county, Va., is believed to have fallen or jumped overboard from the steamer Lancaster while on the way to Baltimore from Rappahannock points. Stiff was missed at Leeds-town.

Bulletin XXX

Many cheap substitutes and poor leathers are being put into shoes—some shoe stores are attaching tags relieving themselves of claims or adjustments.

If, however, the discerning buyers will demand, insist and accept only shoes made of "F. B. & C." Glazed Kid and "F. B. & C." White Washable Glazed Kid "No. 8i" they will be sure of getting the best.

"The Only Leather That Fits On The Foot Like a Glove On The Hand."

Note: "F. B. & C." White Washable Glazed Kid "No. 8i" requires no dressing of any kind. It keeps its new unblemished appearance by the use of "Carbona Cleaning Fluid."

"IMPORTANT"

"F. B. & C." Bronze Glazed Kid Shoes are Dame Fashion's decree for the smart woman, being appropriate for day or evening wear and with gowns of any color. We advise the early purchase of Bronze Glazed Kid Shoes due to the scarcity of dyes and constantly increasing prices.

Arrangements are being perfected that within a short time these trade marks—that insure Style, Service and the best there is, will appear on the inside band of all shoes of Quality and Style.
